RELAX AND UNWIND WITH A STAY AT TIMBERS JUPITER

These days especially, we can all use a little R&R. But until we can safely return to traveling to our favorite jet-set reprieves, staycationing close to home is the next best thing.

You can have a relaxing getaway without even leaving Jupiter. Located within Trump National Golf Club just off Donald Ross Road, Timbers Jupiter is home to 47 freestanding villas, and the lush property is allowing the public to stay overnight for the first time since opening (previously, overnight stays were only offered to the property's owners and their guests).

The boutique property is replete with professionally managed private residences that house spacious two- and four-bedroom floor plans. Stocked kitchens make hosting dinners for the family a breeze, or you can call on Timbers' private chefs for a gourmet meal. Find respite on the outdoor lanai and cool off in your very own private dipping pool.

Should you want to venture off property, planning activities for the whole family is made easy with Timbers' concierge service that can set up a day's worth of fun around the Palm Beaches.

Exclusive programming for parents and couples who want in on the fun range from "drive-in" golf cart movies to "après-tee" cocktail hours to trips to area beach clubs. Of course, you'll also have the opportunity to play golf at one of the nation's most coveted courses. Minimum stay four to six nights; from $1,095/night for a two-bedroom residence; timbersjupiter.com

LOVE FESTS

Fun ways to celebrate with your valentine—or meet someone new!

DATE NIGHT IN

Make the most of staying indoors by creating a special Valentine's Day-themed charcuterie board, courtesy of Morgan Karr and Iris Smeltz of Jupiter-based The Board Babes. The duo will be offering a virtual workshop to create a one-of-a-kind culinary masterpiece you can then enjoy. Ingredients will be dropped off at your house and will also include some pairing suggestions for wine, beer, and bourbon. $100/virtual workshop (includes disposable bamboo board and ingredients; $125 for wooden board you can keep); theboardbabesfl.com

BOOTY SHAKING

Whether you're always the first one busting a move on the dance floor or need some help in the boogie department, have some fun learning new steps with your loved one. Fred Astaire Dance Studios in Palm Beach Gardens is offering a special package for couples that includes two half-hour private lessons and one group class, which you can begin scheduling this Valentine's Day. $25/couple; fredastaire.com

SINGLES ONLY

Speed dating takes on a whole new meaning with Furry Friends' first-ever "Paws for Love" event February 11. Singles who register ahead of time for the free speed-dating and mingling soiree will be paired with another single, along with a dog, to "take the pressure off single people around Valentine's Day," notes Pat Deshong, president of the Jupiter-based organization. Complimentary beverages and take-home "doggie bags" will be provided for guests of the outdoor festivities. furryfriendsadoption.org

Helping HAND

A LOCAL FOUNDATION WITH AN EYE ON JUPITER'S YOUTH

Philanthropy abounds in Palm Beach County—just ask the team behind the Waterfront Way Foundation. Launched in 2018 by Rob Thomson, managing partner of Waterfront Properties & Club Communities, the foundation has focused mainly on serving those "who don't necessarily fit in someone else's box," says Thomson. Such was the case when Waterfront Way gifted Jupiter High School students a shiny new school bus as a holiday gift following a match-by-match donation where a total of $107,000 was raised for the new bus. The old bus had no air conditioning nor wheelchair access, making travel difficult for those in the Exceptional Student Education Program, which brings students to area businesses for hands-on training. Focused on enriching the lives of children, the foundation has done much to help the community, including sending foster children from Place of Hope on vacations with their families and partnering with Big Dog Ranch Rescue to cover adoption fees so 25 first responders could take home an animal during the holidays. Future plans include helping Jupiter High School raise funding to ensure students have a football season come fall. waterfront-properties.com ❖
